in our spinion, a true and clear exposition of the powers reposed in Congress upon the subject of the Territeries of the United States, and the rights guaranteed to the residents in the Territories.

Resolved, That the States of the Confederacy are equal in political rights; each State has the right to settle for itselfall questions of internal polity; the right to have or to not have slavery is one of the percogatives of self-government—the States did not surrender this right in the Federal Constitution, and Tennessee one of the prerogatives of self-government—the States did not surrender this right in the Federal Constitution, and Tennessee will not now do so.

Resolved, That the Federal government has no power to interfere with slavery in the States; or to introduce into or exclude it from the territories, and no duty to perform in relation thereto, but to protect the rights of the owner from wrong and to restore furtilities from labor; these duties it cannot withheld without a vicilation of the Genstitution.

Resolved, That we approve, generally, of the administration of James Buchanan, and that he deserves and receives our iribute of admiration for his clear and lucid exposition of the true doctrine of the Constitution and laws of our Union, and for his firmness in rebuking sedition and treason.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the patriotism and wisdom of the representatives of our party at Charleston, and we will give our hearty support to the nominee of that convention.

Resolved, That the organization of the Republican party upon strictly sectional principles, and its hostility to the institution of slavery, which is recognized by the Constitution, and which is inseparably connected with the social and industrial pursuits of the southern States of the Confederacy, is war upon the principles of the Constitution and upon the rights of the States.

Resolved, That the late treasonable invasion of Virginia, by an organized band of Republicans, was the necessary result of the doctrines, teachings and principles of that party; was the begin ning of the "irrepressible conflict" of Mr. Seward; was a blow almed at the institution of slavery, by an effort to excite a service insurance time. The south and as such, it is the duty of the South to prepare to maintain its rights under the Constitution.

Adopted in Convention assembled at Nashville, on the 18th of January last. The Democratic party of Tennessee, in convention assembled, deeming it their duty to make a declaration of the principles that will form the basis of their action in the future, and having carefully re examined the ground which they have heretofore occupied, and with the developments of the last four years in view, Be it Resolved, That we hereby reaffirm the principles announced in the platform of the Democratic party adopted in convention at Cincinnati, in June, 1856, and that we hold them to be a true exposition of our doctrines on the subjects embraced.

Besolved, That the views expressed by the Supreme Court of the United States in the decision of the case of "Dred Scott," are, in our subjects with reasons the subjects embraced.

THE GREATNESS AND DECLINE

M. HONORE De BALZAC.

From the French of Honore de Buleac. Translated by O. W. WIGHT! AND F. B. GOODRICH.

In one Elegant Volume, 12mo. Cloth,

Rupp & Cantaron have got out the first of their series of the covers of Hosons on Ballac translated by Messes. O. W. Winny and F. B Goodston, both gentlemen favorably known in conne tion with original and translated works. The present is enti-"The Greatness and Decline of Cesar Birottean," and the trans-lators introduce it with the following Proface: " That the Novelast Honore de Balzac,' says the London Critic, 'are immeas urably the greatest works of the kind that France-indeed, we would add, any other country—has ever som, does not admit of the slightest disjuste. That they go deeper into the human heart, epresent more truly the human passions, and reflect with greater coursey the phases of human life, than any other novelist has ever been able to do, is admitted by all who know anything about he matter. Some may object that there are features in his the young and pure. To this we reply that we are not of that opinion. Eulesc touches vice but to scourge her; he drags her forth into the light of day, sets her up in the pillory, and calls er by her right name. Wobelieve that, so far from having a oralizing effect, the careful and thoughtful perusal of Balzac's writings can have no other result than to increase the low f virtue and the dread of vice."
